

Strategic Committee members

EUROPEAN SOCIETY OF HUMAN GENETICS

Lina Basel

Valerie Cormier-Daire

Francesca Forzano

Gert Matthijs

Gunnar Houge

Peter Krawitz

Rebecka Ann Pestoff

Borut Peterlin

Inga Prokopenkov

Birute Tumiene

Key Objectives

- Developing the ESHG Strategy
- Enhancing the Role of Genetic Professionals
- Fostering Integration of Genomic Medicine in Healthcare
- Establishing a Platform for Genomic Medicine
- Influencing Health Policies
- Encouraging Public Engagement
- Promoting Professional Development

Strategy

- Vision
- Mission
- Pillars
- Process of development

Process of development

- ESHG Strategy Committee Working Sessions
- Future Genomic Medicine Survey
- Expert-informed strategic development
- ESHG Board Working Sessions
- Workshop with the national genetic societies' representatives
- Consultation with the ESHG Committees & membership

Vision

To empower citizens by integrating genome science into health systems to enhance personalised healthcare and improve population health outcomes.

Mission

To be the leading international hub for translating genomic science into health impacts by fostering research, providing clinical guidance, influencing policies, and offering education.

Pillars

- Integration of genomic medicine in medical practice
- Influencing health policies
- Genomics for prevention
- Research
- Education

Integration of genomic medicine in medical practice

- Goal 1. Clinical Pathways for Genomic Integration
- Goal 2. Service provision
- Goal 3. Clinical Trials
- Goal 4. New Modes of Interaction between Health Systems and Commercial Providers of Genetic Services

Genomics for prevention

EUROPEAN SOCIETY OF HUMAN GENETICS

- Goal 1. Genetic risk assessment and screening
- Goal 2. Personalised treatment

Education

EUROPEAN SOCIETY OF HUMAN GENETICS

- Goal 1. Deliver high-quality, multidisciplinary education for relevant healthcare professionals
- Goal 2. Education programs for citizens and other relevant stakeholders